

Passport™ V-Series Headsets

Work more efficiently with less stress.
The right headset makes a big difference.

Call center managers know that a quality headset means a happier, more productive agent and fewer problems overall. The ultra-comfortable fit means all-day-wear is stress free and the noise canceling microphone blocks out the sound of surrounding agents for a more professional sounding call. Made with the same impact resistant plastic used in sports equipment to withstand the turbulence of 24/7 operations, Passport headsets are made to handle the intense requirements of the professional contact center.
